A TERRIBLE DEATH.

Explosion in a Steel Furnace Causes the Death of Six Men.

A VOLCANO OF MOLTEN METAL.

The Carnegie Steel Works at Braddock, Pa. the Scene of an Awful Disaster Molten Steel Poured on a Gang of Workingmen.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—Six men met horrible deaths at the Edgar Thompson Steel Works of the Carnegie Steel company, at Braddock at 4:30 o'clock this morning, and eight others were terribly injured. Two of the latter died while being conveyed to the Mercy hospital, Pittsburg.

The dead are: Joseph Luckal, aged 40, married; Stephen Havrila, aged 34, married; John Propokovitch, aged 27, married; James Grulchs, a German; Joseph Cot, aged 82, single; John Mika, Michael Kaperoo, aged 26; Andrew Drobue, aged 30.

The two last named died while being removed to Mercy hospital, Pittsburg.

The injured are: John Warha, John Skonda, Michael Jura, John Harrison.

It is thought they cannot survive their injuries. John Sebovay and John Wagasky were only slightly injured.

Stephen Havenlia either jumped or was blown from the top of the stack. In falling his head struck an iron beam and the upper part of his head was entirely cut off.

The accident occurred at "H" furnace and was the result of what is known as a "slip."

Shortly before the time stated the men at the top of the furnace lost control of a large barrow, from which ore was being dumped into the furnace. The barrow became wedged under the edge of the belt. This is not an unusual occurrence, and in accordance with a rule in force, a number of men at the bottom of the furnace dropped their tools and went to the top to assist in removing the barrow. This increased the number of men at the top of the furnace to 14. The workmen were gathered about the opening tugging at the heavy belt and the barrow, when without warning, there was a terrific report and the furnace belched forth great volumes of flame and molten metal. The unfortunate workmen were instantly enveloped in a sea of flame which spread over the platform on which they stood and into the hoist house a hundred feet above the ground.

The force of the explosion hurled six of the men skyward. They fell back near the opening of the furnace, where the flames and intense heat from below literally roasted them alive.

Those who had been furthest from the mouth of the stack when the explosion came were thrown back into the hoist house, but not far enough to escape the flames and the metal as they poured forth volcano-like from the stack. Thus it was that all were frightfully burned.

Several of the victims could not be identified, their bodies being shattered and torn out of all semblance to the human form.

The explosion immediately aroused the people of Braddock, and soon hundreds were rushing frantically to the furnaces, knowing well what the result of the explosion would inevitably be. As the mothers, wives and children of the victims learned the worst their lamentations were pitiable in the extreme, and force was necessary to keep them in restraint until the work of rescue could be undertaken with safety.

Property to the value of $30,000 was destroyed.

OHIO DEMOCRATS.

A Good Deal of Trouble About the Money Question, but the Gold Bugs Win.

Springfield, O., Aug. 20.—Unless there is a sharp and sudden change in the political temperature, the nomination for Governor will be bestowed by the Democratic State convention to-morrow upon ex-Gov. James E. Campbell, and that by acclamation.

There was a time this morning when it looked as though Congressman Paul J. Sorg would be the nominee. Many of his friends were of the opinion that he had only to say the word to head the ticket and the wires to Lakewood, N. J., and Chautauqua, N. Y., at one of which places he was supposed to be sojourning, would be kept hot with messages urging him to take a special train and put in an appearance among his friends. Had he yielded to these importunities, the programme contemplated the selection of ex-Gov. Campbell as permanent chairman for which point of vantage he could have declared his inability to become a candidate and then the nomination of Sorg without the formality of a ballot would have followed. All day long, however, the Congressman wired from Lakewood that he was sick and unable to make the journey, and that he did not seek or want the nomination. It was not until the voice of the convention on the financial issue assumed a form of a foregone conclusion that anything was said or heard about candidates. Before that from the coming in of the first delegation the question of silver or gold was the all absorbing topic while with it was blended the strong personal hostility manifested in many quarters towards Senator Brice. This latter feature was eliminated at the secret midnight conference of the silver men, as calculated to injure their cause, while the rational element was also overruled by the adoption of a moderate resolution as the silver plank for the platform, and in which the terms "free and unlimited" and "16 to 1" were for once conspicuous only by their absence. It became apparent to-day that the friends of silver were overwhelmed by numbers.

Efforts were made this morning to induce Allen W. Thurman and his cohorts to be content with the indorsement of the national financial plank of 1892, but he brusquely replied that he would just as soon support a resolution affirming allegiance to the financial plank adopted by the Republican State convention at Zanesville. Until the arrival of Senator Brice this afternoon there was some question among the "sound money" advocates as to the exact form of the financial plank that would meet his position, but he soon set all doubts at rest with the declaration that all that was necessary was a ringing reaffirmation of the national money plank of 1892. When this was conveyed to Allen W. Thurman he went over to the Senator's quarters, and after greetings had been exchanged, put the question bluntly: "How do you interpret the platform of 1892, Senator; don't you regard it as a gold platform?"

"Certainly," the Senator replied.

"Then do you want us, or expect us, as Democrats, who believe in silver, to adopt it?"

"The Democracy in national convention adopted it," was the Senator's rejoinder.

"Well, we won't," Thurman reported, as he turned on his heel.

Subsequently the Senator said: "I want it to be understood that I am here in attendance at this convention not only on account of the pleasure I take in meeting a large number of my constituents, but also because it is my earnest desire to see that the Ohio Democracy sustains the national administration upon the financial policy. I am not here to do anything else or to secure anything else."

The sound money advocates to-night are claiming seven-tenths of the convention.

The selection of a committee on resolutions to-night shows 18 representing the sound-money sentiment and only three the silver money. The chief contesting delegations from Cuyahoga county (Cleveland) were given a representation on the committee and two of there will he retired. She committee went into session at 8:30 and organized by the selection of Hon. Frank Hurd of Toledo, as chairman.

In the new State Central committee selected, the Brice men are overwhelmingly in the majority.

Springfield, Aug. 21.—2:30 a. m.—After a consultation of two hours with his immediate friends, ex-Gov. Campbell has just announced that he will not be a candidate and has sent a notice of his decision to Senator Brice. The news has created consternation among the delegates.

Herman Cellarius gave out the news in the shape of a statement from the ex-Governor, who says that he will not accept the nomination and he appeals to his friends in the convention to prevent it.

This declination has broken all slates, shattered all predictions and leaves the delegates floundering in a sea of uncertainty.

A DEMOCRATIC SPLIT.

The Silver and the Non-Silver Elements in Kentucky Disagree.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 20.—The sound money Democrats are incensed at the action of Gen. Hardin in declaring for free silver and interpreting the platform to be a declaration in favor of the white metal. The silverites are in high feather and taunting the gold men on the hot shot Hardin gave the Democratic sound money leaders and the national administration. The sound money men declare they will cast a vote for sound money by supporting Col. Bradley. The silverites go so far as to say in public that Hardin crammed enough silver down the throats of Lindsay, McCreary and Buckren to amply repay him for the inconvenience these gentlemen have put him to by formulating an alleged sound money platform. It is said Hardin will line up with Blackburn and fight the entire Democratic press.

The Louisville Post has dropped Gen. Hardin, and calls upon him to withdraw. There is already talk of bringing out a sound money candidate for Governor and Gen. Buckner is regarded as the right man. There is no doubt that the unsatisfied Democrats will take some action looking to bringing out a candidate.

Col. Bradley left Louisville for Mayfield this morning and Gen. Hardin went this afternoon. The second of the series of debates will be held at Mayfield

California State Silver Convention.

San Francisco, Aug. 20. G. W. Baker called the second day's session of the State silver convention to order at 10 o'clock this morning. Reports of the committee were presented and adopted. The report of the committee on organization recommended George W. Baker, Republican; Thomas J. Clunie, Democrat, and Alexander Majors, Populist, as national committeemen of the American Bimetallic league for the State of California, and instructed to proceed without delay to organize bimetallic leagues throughout the State in accordance with instructions of the national committee.

Timothy Guy Phelps, the first speaker, said the convention had met to right a great wrong. They were there to decide how our paralyzed industries were to be revived, how American laborers could be raised to a higher plane. This could be accomplished by remonetizing silver. Robert M. Beatty, of Nevada said he believed that the vast majority of the American people wished to return to the money of the United States constitution. The speakers thought that no relief could be obtained from political parties.

Quay Faction Wins.

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—The Republican county primaries were held here to-night. The whole interest centered in the election of delegates to the State convention, and the results of to-night's primaries will in all probability decide the winner in the factional fight now raging in the Republican ranks of Pennsylvania between Senator Quay and Senator Hastings, and the Republican leaders of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

The battle to-night resulted in a victory for Senator Quay. The opposition has conceded but 10 delegates from Philadelphia, but to-night he won 17, and seven are in the doubtful column.

With the gaining of 17 delegates from Philadelphia, Mr. Quay seems to have won his fight against his opponents in the State, and is probably assured of election as chairman of the State commitee.

AMONG THE RUINS.

Thirteen Bodies Have Been Taken From the Wrecked Denver Hotel.

THIRTEEN YET IN THE RUINS.

But the Work of Recovery is Unavoidably Slow, and Full of Danger—Thousands Besiege the Coroner's Office in Denver.

Denver, Aug. 20.—The horrors of the Gumry hotel catastrophe grow more evident each hours. The scene to-day was sickening in the extreme, and though five more bodies were taken from the ruins, making 13 in all, it is supposed that 13 more are still buried under tons of debris. The revised list of the dead, missing and injured is as follows:

Dead—At the morgue: Robert C. Greiner, Denver; Mrs. Robert C. Greiner, Denver; Fred Hubbold, Lisbon, Ia.; E. F. McCloskey, Cripple Creek; Will Richards, Denver; Mrs. G. R. Wolfe, Lincoln, Neb.; Belal Lorah, Central City; Geo. Burt, Colorado Springs; Ferdinand French, Central City; James M. Murphy, Denver; Myron E. Hawley, Denver; E. W. Edwards, Denver.

Missing and probably dead—Peter Gumry, Denver; Gen. Charles Adams, Manitou; Albert S. Blake, Pueblo; W. J. Corson, Pueblo; J. L. Kirke, Omaha; J. A. Brown, Omaha; Lizzie Lager, chambermaid, Denver; Louise Reinhuber, chambermaid, Denver; Elmer Loescher, engineer, Denver; S. A. Abbey, Pueblo; Wm. Troy, fireman; A. Mengini, fireman; Frank Johnson, fireman; E. Gilchrist, fireman.

Injured—M. E. Letson, Joseph Munal, Alex E. Irwin, Nathan C. Burgess, Bud Hopkins, Silas Johnson, fireman; J. E. roy, fireman; A. Mengini, fireman; Frank Johnson, fireman; E. Gilchrist, fireman

The coroner's office and undertaking establishments were besieged all day long by thousands of people, some idlers, but the majority of the people who had friends supposed to be in the wreck and are among the long list of missing. The police and all city officials have tried their utmost to facilitate in the search for bodies, but the work proceeds slowly. Portions of the walls have been torn down, but the three upper floors and an immense square skylight in the roof, hangs in midair directly over where the bodies are supposed to be. To add to the awful scene at the wreck, several bodies beneath the ruins have begun to decompose and a horrible stench arises which turns men faint. The firemen, laborers and superintendents have worked incessantly, but little appears to have been accomplished.

The saddest of all the scenes occurred this afternoon. The body of E. W. Edwards had been partly exhumed and bystanders crowded forward to catch a glimpse of the distorted and blackened features. One man in the crowd peered intently into the face of the corpse and then fell over, apparently lifeless. He had recognized in them his beloved brother, and the strain was too great. The only daughter of Mr. Edwards had haunted the scene since the explosion, but fortunately she was absent when his remains were found. About 20 feet from the spot where this body was found is known to be lying the body of Gen. Chas. Adams and three chambermaids. Though the workmen have been most persistent in their efforts to dislodge timbers and bricks, they are wedged as though cemented. Helmuth Loescher, the Gumry engineer, is still supposed to be alive, and the police and detectives have started out to find him. The boy is known around town by several names, and is a reckless and indolent fellow

Chief of Police Goulding is in receipt of hundreds of letters and telegrams from all over the country making inquiries of the missing. The annual police parade scheduled to take place to-morrow has been postponed, and the city really has a mourning aspect.

The funeral of George Burt and James Murphy took place to-day. Burt's remains were sent to Chicago and Murphy's to Cincinnati.

TRAIN HOLDUP.

Robbers Blow Open an Empty Safe and Terrorize the Passengers.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 20.—The 5 p. m. Chicago and West Michigan passenger train from Chicago was held up by four highwaymen one and a half miles south of New Richmond at 9:40 this evening. When the train reached the curve at this point it slowed up as usual, and as it did so a signal was swung for the train to stop. Engineer George Zibbel reversed the lever and applied the air brakes and brought the train to a standstill. A moment later he and Fireman Michael Driscoll were covered with revolvers by two men, while two others proceeded to the express car and ordered expressman Bernard Van Oten to open the door. This he refused to do, and the robbers began firing at the train, breaking all the windows in the express car. Finding Van Oten not easily scared, one of the robbers forced the door and the two went in and while one covered the expressman the other dynamited the safe, blowing the door off. They got nothing as it was an empty safe, being taken from Chicago to the company's offices in this city. The robbers then proceeded to the passenger cars, firing as they went. Entering the car they held up Conductor E. E. Rice, taking his watch and $7 in cash. While this was going on the other two robbers went through Engineer Zibbel and got his watch and also took one from Fireman Driscoll. The four men then jumped from the train and as they did so they saw Flagman Timothy Murphy signalling and shot him in the right groin, inflicting a serious wound. After firing more shots at the train, the robbers struck out into the woods. After the train was started it ran into an obstruction a short distance north of the place of the hold-up. The robbers had piled the track with old ties and some time was spent in clearing the track.

The train was held 20 minutes and arrived in this city at 11:10. The wounded flagman was taken to the hospital. None of the passengers were molested or injured by flying bullets, but all were terribly frightened.

The Chicago and West Michigan officials at once despatched a posse after the robbers. The gang is evidently the same one which assaulted a woman at Otsego Sunday and has been operating in Kalamazoo and Allegan counties for the past three weeks, robbing farmers and holding up travelers.

SYNDICATE TO THE RESCUE.

$3,000,000 Sent to Europe, but the Syndicate Deposits its 14th Ton of Gold.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The treasury gold reserve stood at the close of business to-day, with the withdrawals and deposits taken into account, at $101-577,148.

The withdrawals of gold reported to the treasury to-day were: At New York, Aug 19, $100,000; at New York, Aug. 20, $2,850,000; total, $2,950,000.

There was deposited at New York today by the Belmont-Morgan syndicate in gold $2,000,000

The telegram announcing the withdrawals arrived at the treasury at about 3 p. m. It came from Assistant United States Treasurer Jordan, and occasioned much speculation as to whether or not the syndicate would permit the gold reserve to fall below $100,000,000. Unless a deposit of the syndicate was made, the withdrawals announced would carry it below the mark. About 3:45 o'clock a welcome telegram from Mr Jordan stated that a $2,000,000 deposit of gold coin had been made by the syndicate and the gold reserve was still intact.

This is the third time that the syndicate has come to the rescue of the gold reserve within the past few week. In all it has deposited in excess of its bond stipulation $7,000,000 in gold coin, or nearly 14 tons of the yellow metal.

Since July 13 when the present gold export movement began, the treasury has lost in gold coin taken for export $13,-185,000.

ENJOINED FROM MARRYING.

A Chicago Man Suicides Because He Could not have the Wife he Wanted.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Milton C. Merrill, who was night yardmaster for the Burlington railroad in this city, committed suicide at his residence last night, bringing to a tragic climax a most peculiar case. His wife, Minnie, has been an invalid since she received a stroke of paralysis last January, petitioned Judge Cheltain yesterday to enjoin Merrill from carrying out his oft-expressed intention of marrying Mrs. Mary Beotich, who conducts a saloon at 661 Halstead street. At the same time, Mrs. Merrill's attorney filed a bill for divorce. The court issued a temporary restraining order, which is the first one of the kind known to lawyers here.

Mrs. Merrill alleged in her petition that she married the suicide in 1878, and that he has destroyed the certificate, but his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Richards, says her father told her yesterday he had merely secreted the document in the house at 1400 Lexington avenue. Last Sunday Merrill brought Mrs. Beotich to his home and in the presence of his wife and mother-in-law said he had never been legally married to Mrs. Merrill, and that he was going to marry the saloon keeper. This scene brought on the legal proceedings. When Merrill heard of the injunction he returned home after starting to work. He said he was too disheartened to attend to his duties, and remarked to Mrs. Richards that he wished he had never met Mrs. Beotich, as he feared she would kill him. He retired to his room soon after and turned on the gas. In the morning he was found dead. Mrs. Merrill was prostrated with grief when she heard of his death.

"I believe my father was not in his right mind," said Mrs. Richards to-day.

Early this year his mother died, soon after that a sister and later two of his sons, Markey and Milton, 23 and 26 years old, died. Markey died two weeks ago in a Cincinnati hospital and father returned only two days ago from attending the funeral there. I suppose all this trouble was more than he could bear."

Tennis at Newport

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—The biggest crowd ever seen on the opening day of a championship tennis tournament surrounded the court at the Casino this morning, when the great match for the double championship began. Hobert and Hovey, the champions, were pitted against Wrenn and Chace. To the surprise of every one, the match was a one-sided affair. Wrenn and Chace took three straight sets with ease. The first and third sets were close, but at critical moments the champions were nowhere.

Summary: Final match in doubles for championship f othe United States: Robert D. Wrenn and Malcol G. Chace, challengers, beat Clarence Hobert and Fredrick Hovey, holders, 7-5, 6-1, 8-6.

Official Trial of the St Louis.

Southampton, Aug. 20.—The American line new steamer St. Louis had an official trial to-day and maintained a speed of 22 3-10 knots per hour for over four hours, carrying the Stars and Stripes faster than any flag has ever been carried through the English channel. The course was from Portland Hill to Star Point, a distance of 52 knots. The St. Louis made a flying start, due west, with the tide. The time consumed was 2 hours, 12 minutes, 5 seconds, showing a speed of 23.6 knots. The return trip was made in 2 hours, 28 minutes, 37 seconds, a speed of 21 knots. The sea was smooth.

SACREMENTO.

Cripple Creek Excited Over a Big Strike of Rich Ore.

GOOD NEWS FROM PORTLAND.

The Captain Again Becomes a Bonanza of Fabulous Wealth—The Los Angeles is Becoming One of the Rich[illegible] Mines of the Camp.

Special to The Gazette:

Cripple Creek, Aug. 20.—The recent strike on the Sacremento proves to have been a very good thing. The lower level is now showing very rich ore in the breast. Specimens that are being shown about town are fairly covered with gold. The strike is exciting a good deal of comment.

The new pump on the Elkton is being put in position. It will handle 500 gallons a minute. It is the intention of the managers to continue sinking as soon as they are in shape to take care of the water. The Elkton now has the reputation of being the wettest mine in the camp.

John Harnan of the Portland was in town yesterday. He says that the mine now has 30 feet of ore in the sixth level, and that it is all pay, with a very little sorting. Ninety-five per cent. is shipped to the smelters and stamp mills. They do not know how wide the vein is on the lower levels. They have gone down on one wall, and have not yet drifted across the vein.

The lessees on the Captain, another of the Portland properties, are again in good ore, after four months of disappointment. When they first discovered their vein, almost on the surface, nothing could compare with it for richness. The rock was a black manganese, and it had nuggets of gold as large as kernels of corn sticking out all over it. Some of the specimens assayed as high as $200,000 a ton. The lessees are now at last in the same ore chute, which has opened out again. As depth was gained, however, the ore chute thinned out; and the values fell off. After sinking further, the lessees have now secured the old ore chute again, and are duly elated.

The Los Angeles, on the south slope of Bull hill, is getting into shape to be one of the big shippers of camp. It is now producing rich ore, but it is all being taken out in sinking, there has been no drifting done. All the conflicts on the claim, which is a fraction, have been settled, and a steam hoist will be soon put in place to make it a steady shipper.

The correspondent of The Gazette was at Gillett to-day. The bull fight is a sure thing. Mr. Wolfe last night telegraphed $500 to the City of Mexico to secure the services of two of the best bull fighters on the continent. They require $200 for each performance, and the sum sent was only a partial advance payment. They will surely be on hand. About 60 carpenters are at work on the ampitheater, which is about 250 feet across the ring or bull pit, and rises in 20 tiers. The ring is enclosed with a very strong wall of logs set on end in the ground, and is impregnable for any bull. Over 4000 tickets have already been disposed of, largely in Denver and Colorado Springs. This camp is so far very slightly represented in the purchase of seats, in proportion to the other towns. The camp is literally covered with paper, with posters in every shafthouse. Mr. Wolfe will make a big display at the Flower carnival with his Mexicans and cowboys.

VIGILANT WON BY DEFAULT.

Defender's Rigging was Weakened in the Gale and She had to Withdraw.

New York, Aug. 20.—The first of the appointed trial races to decide whether the Defender or the Vigilant shall be selected to defend the Americas cup which was sailed here to-day, resulted in a disappointment all around. The Defender after outsailing her rival decisively over the first round and continuing to increase her lead for several miles on the second, suddenly withdrew from the race and stood off for a run back to her anchorage. This was due, apparently to a disinclination to risk the sloop further in the strong and steadily increasing breeze which had blown up since the race started. After the Defender's retreat the Vigilant kept sturdily on her course. When she had completed about three-quarters of the second windward beat she was recalled by the judges, who assured Mr. Willard that the race was ended and the Vigilant was the winner.

The start was made from the Sandy Hook light ship, and the race was a beat to windward and return. This meant a trip down the Jersey coast and back, as the wind was south-southwest.

The start was made without the exciting rush for the line which has on two occasions almost led to a collision. One minute before the signal the Vigilant headed for the line on the starboard tack. The Defender followed. The Vigilant crossed at 11:45:56. She immediately luffed up to get a more windward position, but continued on the starboard tack. The Defender shot over the line at 11:46:53. She was also on the starboard tack and was under the same sails as the Vigilant except that she did not use a jib topsail. The wind, which was a good 15-knot breeze at the start, was freshening, and the Vigilant, with her jib topsail where the Defender had none, and a larger club topsail than the new boat carried, was heeling well over, but footing at a tremendous pace. The Defender, with less canvass, stood up better and pointed higher. The rattling breeze bellied out the sails and bade them draw for all they were worth. For full half an hour the two sloops continued on the starboard tack. The Defender began to gain after the first five minutes and gradually the lead of 57 seconds which the Vigilant had at the start, melted away.

At 12:17 the Vigilant went about. At 1:16, almost seven minutes after the turning, Defender broke out her spinnacker. Six minutes later she broke out her balloon jib topsail, rather tardy work for a cup defender. The Vigilant had her spinnacker drawing at 1:18, and her balloon was out at 1:23. The quick work on the Vigilant enabled her to cut down the lead of the new boat a little, and her balloon seemed to draw better than Defender's.

At 1:59 the Defender took in her spinnacker preparatory to rounding the lightship. The time at the end of the first round was: Defender, 2:01:29, Vigilant, 2:08:22.

The wind had reached fully a 40-mile gale as the boats started out on the second round. Seven minutes and a half rounding the Vigilant lowered her club topsail, and under plain lower sail continued her chase of the Defender.

At 2:22 when she was on the port tack leading Vigilant nearly a mile, she luffed up in the wind for an instant, and then were-away toward Sandy Hook.

There was no sign of a mishap and everyone wondered what had caused her to give up the race and the Astor cup and start for home.

The Defender ran inside the Hook, lowered her topsail and scudded up the harbor to Bay Ridge.

After the Defender's sudden withdrawal the Vigilant continued on her course. The wind was now blowing fully 40 miles an hour and at 2:27, five minutes after the departure of the Defender, the Vigilant Herreshoff jib gave way before the strain.

At 3:34 the Vigilant was put about and started for home She was off Sandy Hook at 3:52, and, turning in, she went to her anchorage within the Horse Shoe.

Late in the evening several members of the Americas cup committee met at the club house on Fifth avenue, and held a short conference. At its conclusion the following announcement was made: "The Americas cup committee announces that the trial races will not be resumed until next week. A. CASS CANFIELD, "Secretary."

Ex-Commodore S. Nicholas Kane of the committee was seen by a United Press reporter after the committee meeting. He said that the judges were officially notified by Mr. Iselin that the sudden withdrawal of the Defender to-day was necessitated by the weakening of her rigging, which made it unsafe for the boat to sail around the course the second time.

How badly the Defender's rigging is weakened could not be ascertained, but it was stated that the damage is such that it will require several days to put the Defender in racing trim.

Mr. Arthur Clennis, Lord Dunraven's personal friend and representative, who watched the race from the club boat Lukenback, said: "The Defender stands up well, but she is very light. I am surprised at the extreme lightness of her boom. She is a grand little boat, though, and she gave Vigilant a fair and square beating on the first round."

The Americas cup comittee announced officially to-day that the first race for the Americas cup would take place Sept. 7.

General Charles Adams.

There now seems to be no doubt that the body of General Charles Adams is among those of the victims of the Gumry hotel disaster in Denver. From the first information that came of the accident, and that his name was among the missing, there has been the keenest apprehension among all of the older residents of the county lest the news prove true. Now that the worst is known, there will hardly one of the pioneers of Colorado and El Paso county who will not feel the loss as a personal one.

In this county General Adams has been a power ever since he has lived here. His home on the road to Manitou is well known, and is one of the prettiest country places around here. To Gen. Adams may be traced the establishment of many of the important institutions of the region, including the Colorado City glass works and the mineral water plant at Manitou. He leaves a devoted wife to mourn him, alone. His right name was Schwanbeck, but in adopting this country he became a thorough American, and he soon had his name changed by legislative enactment to Adams. His life was one full of action, and of bravery. The last time his coolness and intrepidity were in evidence was during the Cripple Creek war, when he led the party of deputies that penetrated the beleaguered district to the town of Cripple Creek through ambushed and desperate miners, and returned unscathed. If stringent measures had proved the only resort, the campaign of the deputies would not have failed for any lack of a capable, brave and energetic leader.

General Adams has been in Colorado ever since the close of the war and almost continuously in public life. He was a Pomeranian by birth, had fought through the civil war on the Union side, at first as a member of the Twenty-first Massachusetts infantry and later in the cavalry service. On being honorably mustered out at Fort Marcy, N. M., in 1865, Mr. Adams came to Colorado and went into the Indian service. Later he was in the inspection department of the government postal service, and ex-President Arthur appointed him Minister to Bolivia. At the expiration of his term of office on that commission Mr. Adams returned once more to Colorado and again went into the postoffice inspection department. He was, without question, the most intrepid postoffice inspector who ever did duty in this State. Twice he performed signal services; once when he negotiated with the White River Utes for the return of three captive white women, and once when he accused Packer, the cannibal, of his fearful crime and caused his imprisonment for life.

PRINTERS' HOME.

Many Improvements Made Inside and Outside of the Building.

Barney Merrigan has returned after a visit of several days at the Printers' home at Colorado Springs. He speaks in high praise of the management of Superintendent Schuman of the home and the good feeling that prevails among the inmates.

"The building," said Mr. Merrigan, "has been remodeled in the interior and is surrounded by fine shade trees that are growing finely. A garden of eight acres has been successfully cultivated, and 19 head of live stock are maintained on the farm. The home is attracting many visitors this summer, and Mr. Schuman deserves great praise for his able management."—(Denver News.

Squaw Mountain.

Speaking of Squaw mountain the Cripple Creek Times says: "One year ago Squaw mountain was considered to be a barren pile of granite in which many a poor prospector and mining man of moderate means has sunk their last dollar in a vain search for the chute which leads on to glory and a fortune. Thousands of dollars has been spent in sinking shafts, and driving tunnels without finding mineral in paying quantities. Those who have worked since the early discovery of gold in the district and had named their faith to Squaw mountain began to weaken in their belief of there being anything hidden in the bosom of the hill named in honor of the Indian woman. Many experts who had given this section of the camp any attention were willing to stake their reputation that the formation of the mountain precluded the possibility of true fissure veins of quartz carrying values. Casual observers were inclined to the same opinion and whenever the mountain was mentioned it was compared to Big Bull, Straub, Mineral, Tenderfoot and Carbonate placer that were rich in float that assayed away up but a good place for an intelligent prospector or mining man to avoid. Those owning locations on Squaw mountain were willing to give a good deed interest to anyone willing to put up for the expense of patenting or doing the necessary assessment work. Gilt edged fractures were known to exist on all sides of it and very few were staked.

As the Independence and Portland began to assume the shape of wonderful mines, the owners of property on the Altman hill west began to reason that some how, such veins were liable to be found with the proper kind of work. Miners out of employment secured leases. It was known that little ore had been shipped from the Climax mine and several persons feared that a fraction of mineral that paid handsomely had been sent to one of the smelters from the Kimberly in 1892. It was generally known that the Eclipse situated near the northwest corner of the Pisgah mountain was considered one of the big mines of the entire district at an early date and from it came the richest and finest specimens of quartz showing free gold that has ever been mined in the State.

UNCLE SAM INVOKED.

Secretary Thompson Will Call in the Federal Power.

Secretary Thompson of the State Humane society is on the war-path after the promoters of the bull fight advertised to take place at Cripple Creek on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The secretary has taken a new tack. He telegraphed the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington yesterday, asking as to whether a special permit had been taken out to bring the bulls into this State.

It has been found that such importation cannot be made without orders from the Department of Agriculture. Veterinary Surgeon Creswell has been appealed to, and he has promised that he will enforce any law that comes within the power of his office.

When Governor McIntire returns from his ranch at La Jara this morning, he will be shown the flaming handbills issued for the event.

"Why," said the secretary yesterday, "when Wolfe was up here he told the Governor that it wasn't to be much of a fight after all, that there would be no cruelty and all that sort of thing."

"Just look at this handbill, will you?" said the secretary, as he exhibited a poster of red, green and white, the Mexican colors. "Listen to this," and the secretary proceeded to read as follows:

"The bull fight will commence at 1 p. m. each afternoon. The bull fight will be given in every detail, full and from start to finish, the same as in Havana, Cuba, Madrid, Spain, and the City of Mexico."

"While the inhabitants of the South, East and West are suffering from the thermal climate, the happy residents of the great gold mining district of Cripple Creek enjoy the sunshine and view the class of manly sport that is denied in all other parts of the United States."

Other sentences are of an equally reassuring nature to those who are figuring on a red-hot, old-fashioned bull fight, as described in Spanish annals.

The secretary didn't wait to personally lay the poster before the Governor. His excellency was promptly telegraphed the substance of the secretary's discovery.

Word was received from the secretary of the local humane society at Cripple Creek that Sheriff Bowers had been seen. That official had declared that he hoped the fight would be stopped by legal injunction. He was going to have "one salaried deputy" on the spot, and would try and stop proceedings if any cruelty was practiced. "Nice thing," remarked Secretary Thompson. "One salaried deputy will do lots of good stopping a fight."

It is considered by the officers of the humane society that Sheriff Bowers is not losing any great amount of sleep devising ways and means to stop the fight. The result of the interview between the secretary and the Governor, who has been given to understand that the affair is to be very tame, is awaited with interest. Secretary Thompson will be on hand as soon as the Governor reaches his office this morning.

Attorney General Carr found an act of 1893 which he construes as giving the Governor power to prevent the exhibition through aid of the State National Guard. The act reads: "They of the National Guard) may be ordered to active service by the Governor to aid the civil authorities, to prevent or suppress riot," etc., etc. There is nothing said in the clause about a request from the sheriff of the county. The Attorney General thinks it would be a good thing for the Adjutant General to send two or three companies of the National Guard to camp at Cripple Creek, and if there is an attempted infraction of the law the arm of the State could promptly stop the violation. Wichita National Bank Affairs.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 20.—The receiver of the Wichita National bank has brought suits in the United States Circuit Court for over $200,000, the greater portion of which is money borrowed on personal notes. Among these are the following: A. W. Oliver, $12,982; A. N. and Ralph Neiderlander, $28,528; George L. Rouse, $30,000; the Kansas Loan and Investment company, $9,000; the Fairmount Investment company, $10,000; M. L. Cohen, $11,250; Oliver & Imboden, $27,500. The receiver is gradually bringing the affairs of the bank into shape.

The receiver of the State National bank has brought suit in the United States Circuit Court against all of the stockholders who have failed to pay double their subscribed stock in the defunct State National bank. This will increase the assets so as to enable the receiver to meet 75 per cent of the bank's liabilities.

"The Colorado Woman."

The new woman has certainly landed in Colorado. She is making her presence known by the publication of a quite pretentious little magazine, "The Colorado Woman," the current number of which stuns us with a 12-page dissertation on "The Historical Incarnation of Psychology," in which it is stated that "The inner life as revealed through Boehme, Echart and even Paracelsus show to a student of Psychology that the final results for good may be manifested when the spiritual organism is in touch with the divine principle of life." Oh, New woman, you are too many for us. So is your grammar. (Pueblo Chieftain.

ADVERTISING

The Editor of The Gazette will not be responsible for the return of manuscripts.

We shall publish on Friday morning a [illegible] and souvenir account of the Flower parade, prepared by The Gazette [illegible] and we expect that many extra copies of the edition will be wanted. Only the souvenir edition, however, which will contain not only a careful account of the whole, with descriptions of all the prominent exhibits, but also a number of beautiful illustrations, printed on fine paper, and showing the features of the parade, will not be issued until Tuesday morning, that being the earliest time at which the illustrations can be prepared. This edition will consist of [illegible] or more [illegible] pages and we expect it to be the finest souvenir edition ever issued in the State. It will be a paper that everybody will want both to send away to their friends and to preserve for themselves. Our regular subscribers will receive the souvenir without charge, but all extra copies will be sold at five cents each. Advance orders will receive the first attention, and that in the order of their reception at this office.

A NATIONAL DISGRACE

A month or two ago, our ambassador at the French capital was supposed to be [illegible] American. He went over to London and delivered a speech which was taken at the time to mean that he thought Mr. Bayard had been too complaisant with the foreigners, and proposed himself to let the eagle scream and flap its wings on every occasion. Afterwards he talked very freely to a newspaper [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] Canada. It was natural therefore to expect that when an American citizen was sentenced by the French government to twenty years' penal servitude, without any possibility of appeal to his country's representatives, when the [illegible] was brought from Madagascar to France and put in prison as it were under the very eyes of our ambassador, who [illegible] unequalled opportunity presented itself for Mr. Eustis to carry out his strong American policy and vindicate the honor of the flag [illegible] it was natural to expect that our ambassador would seize the opportunity [illegible] [illegible] of the prisoner [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Eustis has been [illegible] reasonable requests have been refused, and he should lose no time in demanding his passports. The ambassador of any other power who had been treated as he has been treated would have done that long ago, or what is more likely he would have secured the delivery of the prisoner, for we do not believe that the French government would have dared to refuse that if the ambassador had made it evident that he was in earnest.

No administration since Jefferson's, even Madison's, has showed such a capacity for taking insults from European powers as this one of Mr. Cleveland. It is well to be at peace with [illegible] but it is a mighty poor way to keep at peace to put up with any insults that may be [illegible] by European powers to refrain from the protection of American citizens abroad [illegible] the [illegible] of all the European powers.

The case of Mr. Waller was one that demanded action. He is an American citizen, and is entitled to the protection of his government [illegible] any other citizen. That the French should try him by court martial, and sentence him without any reference to the fact that he is a citizen of this country, was an outrage on our national dignity. But now the case is worse still. The efforts of our ambassador have been made futile, his attempts to do something for the prisoner have met only with snubs and refusals. The government of the United States has been insulted in his person, and a regard for the dignity of the country which he represents if he has no regard for his own [illegible] [illegible] the French government [illegible]

OUR MILITARY VISITORS

[illegible] the unusual sight of a visit from such a large body of regular troops as are here for the [illegible] of the week. It is a very rare [illegible] for troops to make a [illegible] [illegible] generally they are on duty at the [illegible] and when they are not they are either in the field or [illegible] or else they are in [illegible] somewhere outside of civilized communities. This time they are to have more of a holiday and we are highly delighted that they are to take it here.

We are always glad to see the soldiers. They remind us that the United States have an army, and a mighty good one for its size. They make us feel in a very [illegible] way that we are in the United States and that those States [illegible] one nation.

Aside from this, however, the soldiers are [illegible] All the boys in town would like to spend all their time on the reservation for the rest of the week; and maybe all the girls would, too, if they were frank enough to speak out their minds.

So we are all glad to see the soldiers and we hope they will have a good time while they are here. To Gen. Wheaton the thanks of the city is due, for the kindness which prompted him not only to the request that was made of him but to do even more, and to show in every possible way his desire to do everything in his power to make our [illegible] a grand and a [illegible] one.

We are in receipt of No. 7 of vol. III of the Colorado Woman, a publication which is supposed to represent the women of this State. The editor in chief is Grace Espy Patton. Among the associate editors is Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, formerly of this city. The whole of the reading matter of this number consists of the conclusion of a long essay on the Historical Interpretation of Psychology, by Dean W. Hayward, a rambling, disjointed [illegible] of words which mean nothing. Here is a sample of the paragraphs:

[illegible]

So far as it is representative at all [illegible] the publication is a disgrace to the women of Colorado. We are surprised that so cultivated a woman as Mrs. Bradford should allow the use of her name as associate editor of such a publication.

The [illegible] of the [illegible] Democrats in Maryland against Boss Gorman is assuming formidable proportions. We find in a recent issue of the Baltimore Sun, the leading Democratic paper in the State, the following concerning the Republican ticket:

[illegible] Republican ticket is a good one [illegible] and the platform is also a good one. Platforms, as Mr. Gorman has taught us, are not always considered binding after a victory has been achieved, but it is at least safe to say that if the Republican nominees live up to the pledges made in their platform [illegible] [illegible] the State will not suffer by their election.

This seems to come pretty near to an endorsement of the Republican ticket and platform, and if the Sun has any influence, and we suppose it has, the State will go Republican in November.

The death of Gen. Adams removes a striking figure and one that will be missed. He was a [illegible] friend, a good citizen and one of the bravest soldiers that ever took the field.

Justice William Strong is dead. He was [illegible] years old and had been retired from the Supreme bench for 15 years. He was one of the ornaments of that most dignified body of men in the world, and both during and after his official life was [illegible] many religious and philanthropic movements.

Secretary Thompson of the State Humane society, says there will be no bull fight at Gillett. Possibly [illegible] that, but we have our doubts. Of course there ought not to be any fight, but that a certain proportion will [illegible] The sheriff refers to the district attorney, and the district attorney refers to the local agent of the Humane society, and the local agent of the Humane society refers to the State secretary of the Humane society, and the State secretary of the Humane society refers to the Governor. Now, if the Governor refers back to the sheriff, there you are, and nobody, as Joe Wolfe would say, ain't responsible for nothing [illegible] nobody in [illegible] does anything in particular to stop [illegible] will surely take place.

The Evening Times and all of this city will [illegible] special edition [illegible] the prize poems which have been written for the Flower Carnival [illegible] and we have [illegible] that the [illegible] [illegible]

Which is a Most "Fluctuating"

It is urged by the New York Times that since 1873 [illegible] because silver has fluctuated more than [illegible] and that [illegible] of value compared with other things more than gold [illegible] Not a single commodity produced by the labor of man [illegible] more stable than that which has been [illegible] with respect to silver. Prices have not fallen in Mexico, for example, as they have fallen here. The silver dollar there will buy as much of everything as it ever would. So will the new bullion of the American dollar. American wheat and cotton and wool have fallen only relatively to gold. Were this nation upon a silver basis (where no true man wishes it to be) prices would be just where they were fifteen or twenty years ago. The value of an ounce of silver as compared with a number of wheat or a bale of cotton has undergone no change of any considerable and during the last two decades. It is that cheaper [illegible] it is completely ridiculous to insist that a metal of which these things must be said "fluctuates" more than gold, which has so far advanced in value that an ounce of gold will now buy from two to three times as much as it would have bought in 1868. When the price relation between silver and all other purchasable commodities [illegible] steadfast, while the value of gold has widely separated from the value of all other commodities, the act that can only be expressed only by the declaration that gold has moved upward far beyond the normal level. No other result could have followed upon the demonetization of silver. The exact consequence which might have been predicted when that act was done has in fact appeared.—The Manufacturer.

Buffalo Driving Park to be Closed

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The Buffalo Driving Park, the another track of the [illegible] which last week closed its [illegible] meeting, is to be closed up [illegible] out of existence. The association has decided to dissolve, and already Mr. Hamlin has [illegible] all his [illegible] and drivers at the track except [illegible] the horses are being taken to Village Farm and many are being disposed of. Just what disposition will be made of [illegible] has not yet been determined. Full credit for this decision may be given to the law which was passed the past [illegible] they took betting law, which [illegible] the close of the [illegible] of the State [illegible] [illegible]

Just what Mr. Hamlin will do with the horses is not yet known.

At the Fair, [illegible] he has 650 horses and a [illegible] of men to care for them. It is likely that all of [illegible] will be [illegible] disposed of.

MR. W. F. CROSBY TO MEET A LONG FELT WANT.

A Series of Small Modern Houses to be Rented or Sold—Something that has been Needed Here a Long Time—$60,000 to be Spent

Some mention has been made in these columns before of the plans of Mr. W. F. Crosby for the erection of a series of houses on Boulder Crescent, but few details of the plans have been yet printed.

One of the hardest things to find in this town is a nice house for rent. There have been very few houses built expressly to rent, and the real nice houses are always sold as soon as the owners want to vacate, so the houses that are to rent are often the houses that no one wants. Mr. Crosby learned from his own efforts to rent a house to suit him that this was the case, and he was determined to do something to remove the difficulty. He has purchased the west half of block 3 in Addition 5, and has subdivided it so as to give him 12 lots, with a private right of way leading through the tract. The land has a western exposure, and an absolutely unobstructed view of the mountains. On these lots Mr. Crosby proposes to put a series of houses, of from 6 to 10 rooms, of which the first, in which he will live himself, is now well under way. These houses will be all different in design and in style of architecture. There will be one colonial, one shingled, and one a chalet, and Mr. Crosby is considering making one of them in the syle of the old Franciscan missions of southern California, with stucco walls and a tile roof. The houses will be provided with all known conveniences, even in the smallest cottages, such as bathrooms, stationery tubs, furnace, electric lights and gas, electric bells, open fires, ample cellars, and all the other features of luxury and comfort. There will be no fences on the tract, while the planting of trees and lawns, added to the varied and artistic architecture of the tract will make the whole little settlement most attractive.

It is not the aim to build "cheap" houses for low rents, but the "best" to satisfy the most exacting tastes, for which the rentals will be as reasonable as practicable, though not in competition with the older and less complete cottages now in the market. These houses will be both for sale or to rent, furnished and unfurnished, and will be completed as expeditiously as possible.

Mr. C. U. Dawson has drawn the plans for several of the houses, including the one now under construction—Paul Gerhardt is building that one, and the others will be let out for competitive bids by reputable builders, as soon as the plans are ready.

Mr. Crosby has his eye on another tract on which to build in case the plan proves successful, and the chances are that experience will show that he has opened up another avenue of safe and profitable investment.

THE FLOWER PARADE.

Sub-committees on Reception Appointed—A Distinctive Marshal's Uniform.

At a meeting of the reception committee for Flower Carnival Day, held at the committee headquarters yesterday afternoon, very complete arrangements were made for the reception and entertainment of the Governor and his staff, and also the visiting army officers. The entire reception committee of 20 members is expected to be at the Rio Grande depot upon the arrival of the special train from Fort Logan at 4:30 this afternoon. The members of Maj. Hood's staff, with their ladies, will be taken to Montgomery hall and quartered there during their stay. A sub-committee was appointed to see to their general welfare while they are here.

Another sub-committee, consisting of Mayor Plumb, Judge Lunt, Dr. Solly, C. E. Noble, Henry McAllister, Jr., and George R. Buckman was appointed to receive the Governor and his staff upon their arrival at 11:15 Thursday morning. This committee will also escort the Governor and staff to their box on the grand stand in the afternoon and to the Casino ball in the evening. The Governor during his stay in the city will be the guest of Dr. S. E. Solly, and on Thursday evening he will be entertained at dinner by Mrs. Thomas H. Edsall.

A special committee consisting of Mr. H. J. Hagerman and Mr. R. J. Preston was appointed to escort the ladies of Maj. Hood's staff to their seats in the grand stand Thursday afternoon.

The boys at Perry Park have been very greatly disappointed at the idea of not being able to be in the parade. Capt. Goodin called up Mr. Buckman by telephone last evening and said that they would do some hard marching, and put forth their best endeavors to get here in time for the parade. They break camp this morning, and judging from the disposition of officers and men it is quite probable that they will be here in time to participate in the parade. Even if the soldiers are not able to arrive here on Thursday, several of the officers will precede them, and will be here to participate in all the festivities.

Immediately on the arrival of the battalion from Perry Park the soldiers will go into camp on the College reservation with their comrades from Fort Logan, and will remain for several days.

Assignment of Marshals.

The marshals of the day will be distinguishable by their costumes, and the bridles of their horses, which are to be covered with white satin. The marshals will wear black derby hats, black coats and white duck trousers. The list of marshals and their assignments is as follows:

Saddle horses and cowboys J. H. Fullerton and A. H. Whaite.

Prairie schooners, floats and six-horse stages F. E. Nichols, Jr., J. A. Vorhees and L. R. Ehrich.

Four-in-hands, spike teams and tandems J. W. Montieth, Nelson B. Williams and J. F. Burns.

Two-horse four-wheelers Clarence Edsall, C. H. White, W. P. Epperson and A. Van Vechten.

One-horse four-wheelers—B. C. Jay and Hugh R. Steele.

One-horse two-wheelers Chas. C. Pond and Will Blackmer.

Pony traps and ponies, burro traps and burros—Fred Vorhees and R. D. Weir.

For the benefit of those who have not seen the previous announcements, it is officially announced that no bicycles will be allowed in the afternoon parade.

Saturday Afternoon at the Casino.

Arrangements are being made to have a big time at the Casino next Saturday afternoon. In addition to a swimming match and two boat races between some of our most prominent people, Mrs. Whitbeck will have three new fancy dances, as follows: "The Cachaca," by Miss Jessie Barnes; "The Sailor's Hornpipe," by Walter Ashby, and "The Fairies' Rehearsal," by Misses Marie Nye, Annie Older and Jennie Altman. As Saturday afternoons have become very popular at the Casino, with the above extra attractions a large crowd may be expected next Saturday.

LIBRARIANS.

There are Now about Ninety of Them in the City—To-day's Programme.

There are about 90 of the members of the American Library association in the city. Some of them are visiting friends, but the majority of them have been roomed in private houses by the Chamber of Commerce bureau, assisted by the efforts of Mr. H. L. J. Warren, who is now connected with the Denver public library.

The guests include some quite prominent men, including Mr. J. C. Dana of Denver, who has been elected president of the association. Mr. Dana is a guest of Mr. Walter C. Frost during his stay in this city. Others are Mr. C. B. Maloney, manager of the Chicago Library bureau; Mr. W. H. Brett, librarian of the public library of Cleveland, O., and who has securede the next conference of the association for his city; Mr. Elmore Burch of Chicago, Dr. G. F. Wire, superintendent of the medical department of the Newberry library in Chicago, and Mr. E. S. Day of the great London and New York publishing house of Longmans, Green & Co.

Over 60 of them will stay until over Thursday to see the Flower parade, and on the following day a party of 40 will go to Cripple Creek. A dozen or 20 will remain to the extreme limit of their tickets.

Yesterday the party were given a ride over to Manitou, where 64 of them went up the Peak. On their return they took lunch at the Iron Springs hotel and then they took carriages that had been sent over from Hundley's to meet them, and were given a drive through Williams's Canon, Glen Eyrie and the Garden of the Gods, returning to this city over the mesa.

This morning will be held an adjourned meeting of the association in the Coburn library. The local situation will be presented by local speakers, and the association will proceed to discuss the problems presented here, and suggest ways of stirring up a good library spirit in this city. The meeting will be of interest to everyone who wants to see a good library here, and there should be a good attendance. The time of the meeting is 10 o'clock.

In justice to the firm of Stark & Siney, whose slaughter house was made the subject of a communication from the head of the health board to the City Council Monday night, Mayor Plumb wants it known that Stark & Siney have themselves done no slaughtering down there since nearly a year ago. Their meat is all sent from Kansas City, and never goes near anything more polluting than their scrupulously clean ice-box. The firm has spent years in building up a big wholesale and retail business in this locality by the excellence of their goods, and naturally they feel a little hurt at the implication that their meat comes from an abbatoir whose condition would make the meat wholly unfit for use. Their old slaughter house is leased to other parties, and they themselves have slaughtered only one animal there since last November.

The case of O'Haire vs. Doyle, which involves title to a large slice of the Portland stock, was on trial before Judge Lunt yesterday. The testimony has all been taken before a referee, and the proceedings consist of the reading of the typewritten report of the stenographer by the lawyers in turn. There is a bundle of it at least four inches thick, and it will take all the week to read it through. Mr. Vanatta and Judge Macon appear for the plaintiff, and Patterson and Thomas for the defendant.

The third horse for the hose wagon of the fire department was purchased yesterday. The chief has gone to Denver to get the shafts, and as soon as they arrive the work of teaching the new recruit to jump into place when the gong strikes will be begun. He was bought from Mr. Swisher, and is a big brown, weighing nearly 1400 pounds. He is said to be a fast and a gentle horse. His name is "Captain," and it will be duly inscribed in the plate above his stall.

In the accounts that have appeared in the Denver hotel disaster, the name of A. M. Monroe of Colorado Springs has appeared among the dead in the ruins. A. M. Monroe is the agent of the Denver Lithographing company, and has been in this city a good deal this past summer in the interests of a little guide book he has prepared. The latest reports from Denver last night were that he was not in the disaster at all.

Mr. H. S. Poley is making special preparations for taking in the parade photographically, especially the bicyclists. Wheelmen who are to take part in the lantern parade should bring their wheels around to Mr. Poley while it is yet light.

People who have reserved grand stand tickets for the carnival are requested to call at the Consolidated bookstore today and get them, because there is going to be a crush of outsiders to-morrow.

Mr. W. B. Wolfe of Boston, who has been renewing old memories in this city, left last evening for home, called reluctantly away by pressure of his business interests.

The Gibson brothers will be arraigned before Justice Walker to-day for the murder of Officer Shea at Victor, and a day will be set for their preliminary examination unless they choose to waive it.

A petty larceny convict named George Leavitt was brought down from camp yesterday to spend 30 days in the county jail.

THE MINING EXCHANGE.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 21—Although trading was not as heavy at the Exchange this morning as upon the previous day, there was quite a good amount of business done and were it not for the contrast would be considered very good indeed. The heavy sellers of the morning were Union and Consolidated. The first named stock sold off over 1000 sales and opened very strong at 2¾, at which figure large sales changed hands. Over 20,000 shares sold at 2 after that and there was an unexpected slump, the stock being offered freely at 2 at the close with 2¼ the best bid. Consolidated buyers were wary and it was a long time before they would bid better than 2¼. They had to do so however to get any stock and in the end 10,000 shares changed hands at 14¾ and 14¾. Creede and Cripple Creek had an even 10,000 sales all of which went at 3¼. Isabella was in good demand at all times at better than 22 some of it selling as high as 23. Mt. Rosa was in very good demand at 19 and 19¼. The stock is being carefully watched by the bears who do all they can to keep the price down. Portland was, contrary to expectations, hardly as strong as upon the previous day and sold down as low as $1.91. The same can be said of A. J. which was a ready seller at 77 and 78. Mollie showed some little improvement and had nearly 100 sales.

Second Call.

There was not much doing in the listed stocks at the second call though the sales in the unlisted were greater. There was enough of it, however, to bring the day's total to within a few hundred of 180,000 shares or a total of over 600,000 for the first two days of the week. Argentum Juniata was again a fairly lively trader and showed some improvement over the morning prices. The sales amounted to within 100 of 3000 and the price ranged from 77 to 78½ and it gratifying to note that the higher figures were obtained at the close, showing an upward tendency. One of the heaviest sellers was Consolidated with 7000 shares to its credit. It all went at 14¾ and 14¾ and closed strong with the lower figure bid. Creede and Cripple Creek had 6000 sales and closed up with a sale of 5000 shares at 3 which was somewhat of a surprise to the majority of the brokers present. Work ended up with a flourish and 5000 sales were made in short order. They were all allowed to go for 6¾ and it closed with a weaker appearance than for the past call or two. Alamo had a few sales as it has done for some days past. All the time the stock has been slowly rising in value and to day it touched 4¾ with the same figure bid for more. The total sales in the listed stocks for the day amounted to 198,150 shares.

Some of the richest specimens of silicious gold ever found in the camp were taken out a week or two ago from the lowest workings of the Portland mine, close to the Black Diamond workings. The piece which your correspondent saw weighed about two pounds, the alternate corners of which assayed $92,000 and $101,000.

The Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 21—Business was quite brisk at the first call of the Board of Trade and though, in a general way, there was hardly that bullish feeling so noticeable yesterday the sales were heavy. Colorado City and Manitou was the heaviest seller of the lot and is evidently in great favor. The sales in it amounted to over 40,000 shares and the price ranged from 2¾ to 2¾, the bulk of the trading being at the lower figure. Some other heavy sellers were Aola, C. K. and N., Golden Age and Keystone, each of which had from 20,000 to 24,000 sales. C. K. and N. was the heaviest seller of the lot and went at $6.50 and $7 per 100. Golden Age brought $9 and $9.50 per 1000, Aola at $11 and $11.50 per 1000 and Keystone at 2¾ and 2¾. The heaviest priced stocks were represented by Gold King, Portland, Union, and Anaconda.

Second Call.

Business was again brilliant at the second call and was again notable for the good number of stocks that had over 10,000 sales. Prominent among the number was Union which had a total of 24,000 shares. It was weak in price and sold down as low as 26¾, a good quantity of it going at that figure. Golden Age had over 40,000 sales and there was no deviation from the one price of 1¾ which was paid for it. Bob Lee was a lively seller at $19 per 1000 and was not so strong as in the morning. In values Portland easily lead. The sales in this high priced favorite amounted to 6000 shares and the price ranged from $1.92 to $1.94, the bulk of it going at the lower figure. Anchoria Leland, a very hard stock to procure, was unusually lively at from 50 to 55. The lower figure was paid for a block of 4000 shares but from that time there was a steady rise in price and the closing sales were made at 55 and 56½. Summit went up to 11½ and Ladessa was very lively at 1¾. Sacramento and Pharmacist were slumpy. The total sales for the day amounted to 4[illegible]68 shares.

The Denver Pit.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Aug. 20.—Another very heavy morning's business has to be recorded for the Colorado Exchange this week, this morning's call resulting in the sale of over 250,000 shares, over 200,000 of which were in the listed stocks. The Cripple Creek stocks were again well to the fore and the heaviest seller was represented by Creede and Cripple Creek, which had close upon 100,000 sales but closed with the quotations very wide apart, there being a difference of 1 cent. There was a lively scramble after Bangkok and with 15,000 sales the price was taken up to 15, and even better than that was paid for some of the stock that changed hands. Generally speaking stocks were strong and this was shared in, even by Mollie and A. J., though the other silver stocks, Union Leasing, was one of the few weak ones on the list.

Current News.

The value of the stock sold at the Exchange on Monday was about $100,000.

Two seats on the Board of Trade sold yesterday for $300. At the Exchange $700 is bid for one but there is none offered at less than $1,000.

Over two million two hundred thousand shares of mining stock changed hands Monday and Tuesday in this city and Denver. Denver is credited with 600,000, the local Exchange about 700,000 and the Board of Trade about 900,000 shares.

The Board of Trade will issue a book giving information about the mining companies of Cripple Creek. As little technical matter as possible will be included in the work and the writing of it is in the hands of Mr. Henry Russell Wray. The first issue will be of 10,000 copies.

The Pharmacist will in all probability make a good record for August, as communication has been effected between the eighth and ninth levels, laying open it is reported, some valuable stoping ground. Since the new manager assumed charge the debts of the company are fast being liquidated from the profits of the mine.

What appears to be the best strike yet made on Beacon hill is open for inspection, the Beacon. A. C. Hickman made the discovery and five feet of ore is exposed in the breast of his tunnel which he has driven along the vein a distance of 40 feet. At this point it is fully 75 feet below the surface and the hard flinty blue quartz shows sylvanite and occasionally rusty gold. Fifteen tons of the best grade is now ready for shipment. It will run at least five ounces. The second grade will leave a profit to the lessee after all expenses are distributed.

Speaking of the Summit company the Engineering and Mining Journal's Cripple Creek correspondent says: "The properties owned by the Summit company are the Globe, Lady Stith and Cleveland, and are situated on the summit of Globe hill, and giving employment to 18 men. The shaft has been sunk 200 feet. A drift is now being extended west from that point. In July 123 tons of ore were shipped, 93 of which netted over $100 per ton, and the 10 tons netted $30 per ton, 140 tons were treated at the Brodie cyanide mill, which netted $12 per ton. During the latter part of July 250 tons of ore were broken and is now being treated at the cyanide mill, which is calculated to yield $1,500 per ton net. Fully 1200 feet of development has been done, on these properties. It is the intention of the executive to sink the present shaft 200 feet deeper, with the hope of finding the mineral concentrated into a smaller body."

Big Profits ON Small Investments.
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stocks.
$10 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from $50 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few hundred dollars up to a few thousand dollars.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
Write for convincing proofs, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money making pointers. All free. Our manual explains margin trading. For further information address

THE MARKETS.

New York, Aug. 20.—Money on call is easy at 1 per cent.; last loan at 1, and closed at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4@4½ per cent. Bar silver 66¾. Mexican dollars 53¼. Sterling exchange is easier with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.89½@4.89½ for 60 days and $4.90¼@4.90½ for demand. Posted rates $4.90@4.91. Commercial bills $4.88½@4.88¾. Government bonds higher; State bonds firm; railroad bonds strong. Silver at the board was dull.

A drive was made at the Sugar shortly after the opening and the stock bibbe 2½ to 110. No valid reason could be obtained for the break in the stock and it was suspected that the movement was engineered for the purpose of facilitating covering of shorts in Tobacco. These movements were followed by a sharp upward turn in the anthracite coalers and Jersey Central of 2¼ to 1°, while the other stocks in this group improved anywhere from ¾ to 1¾ per cent. Reading and Delaware and Hudson ruled strong throughout. The grangers were in demand on the outlook for the crops and higher prices were recorded. Rock Island rose to 81, Burlington and Quincy to 86¾ ex-dividend, St. Paul to 73, Northwestern to 102½, Eastern Illinois preferred to 103¾, and Omaha to 41⅝.

Bonds were strong and sales footed up to 1,264,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The bears had things very much their own way in the grain market to-day. Wheat opened weak on larger receipts than estimated and lower cables and continued weak on heavy liquidation of the September option. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth were 278 cars, against 218 last year, indicating that the farmers were beginning to market their crop. Receipts at Chicago were 187 cars. Withdrawals from store were 84,350 bushels and Atlantic seaboard clearances, including wheat and flour, were 351,006 bushels. Liverpool cables were quiet with a decline of ½ pence reported in futures. Shipments to all importing countries for the last week were 5,975,000 bushels, against estimated requirements per week of 6,500,000. Bradstreet's world's visible supply of wheat shows a decrease of 270,000 bushels without the Pacific coast; east of the Rockies, decrease of 1,390,000; Europe and afloat for Europe, increase of 1,120,000 bushels. Continental cables closed lower. Towards the close, however, on a report that the wheat crop of Manitoba had been damaged 40 per cent. by frost, the tone improved and a portion of the loss was regained.

Corn—Favorable weather and the prospective big crop made short sellers of corn more aggressive and they pounded the market until they had knocked a full cent off yesterday's figures. There was a much smaller demand for cash corn and this assisted in weakening prices. After the first hour trading became very dull. Liverpool cables were weak with futures half pence lower. Receipts were large, 879 cars arriving. Export clearances amounted to 296,570 bushels. Bradstreet's world's visible supply of corn shows a decrease of 583,000 bushels. Withdrawals from store were 707,000 bushels.
